

About

Founded in 1968 in Reggio Emilia, Dino Paoli is a leading Italian manufacturer of high-performance impact wrenches. With a strong presence in Formula 1, Formula 2, DTM, World Series by Renault, V8 Supercar, Indy Lights, IRL, Nascar, Formula Nippon and almost all teams in Endurance, GT, F.3000 and IMSA, Paoli's technology has been helping set pit stop records for decades.

The company is built on a solid engineering culture, supported by continuous investment in innovation, precision manufacturing and materials science. As a TIER 3 supplier, Dino Paoli manages the entire production process in-house – from design and prototyping to machining and assembly – ensuring full control over quality and performance.

Dino Paoli is the ideal technology partner for advanced engineering systems where performance, traceability and quality are essential, with applications ranging from motorsport and automotive to industrial sectors, infrastructure, mining, oil platforms, underwater operations and aerospace.
